

Message from the Superintendent

Welcome to the Clay Community Schools (CCS) Website. I hope you find it useful and informative.

I am very proud of CCS! We are extremely blessed with dedicated employees who strive to provide an optimal learning environment for our students. Our school corporation has received many curricular, co-curricular, and extra-curricular awards and accolades. Several of our schools have been named Indiana Four-Star Schools, and two of our schools, Jackson Township Elementary and Staunton Elementary, are National Blue Ribbon Schools. Our band and many of our athletic programs have also done very well, with post-season championships and state titles.

All of the elementary buildings have been renovated over the past several years. Clay City Junior/Senior High School and Northview High School were recently renovated and received substantial additions to the buildings. Additional special education classrooms, auxiliary gymnasiums, new band rooms, student collaboration centers, and many other improvements were included in the additions and renovations at both of these secondary schools. North Clay Middle School, Clay City Junior/Senior High School, and Northview High School are 1:1 schools, and new Chromebooks were purchased for the students in these buildings.

School safety is a top priority in CCS! Each school building has enhanced safety features. Armed school resource officers also work in our buildings. All employees and students receive ALICE Training, which is an intensive and dynamic active intruder training program. This training is reviewed each year, and regular drills are practiced at each school.

Again, I am very proud of CCS. I firmly believe you will find CCS to be a great place to learn and work!
