NWEA Testing

NWEA winter testing will begin this month. Third graders will be testing on the following dates: January 11th, 21st, and 25th.

This Week's Focus

Reading- For Unit 10, we will be focusing on comparing and contrasting texts. We will use a Venn diagram to determine how different texts are alike and different. We will also be working on making inferences and predictions about texts we are reading.

Language- For Unit 10, we will focus on subject and predicates. Students will learn to pull apart a sentence to determine the subject and predicate.

Writing- We are going to be working on persuasive writing for the third 9 weeks of school. We will primarily be doing that in class, but some of our completed writings will be coming home.

Math- For Unit 10, we will be focusing on geometry. Students will learn shape names, attributes, create two-dimensional shapes with a ruler, and partition shapes into equal areas.
