Reminders

Students can practice spelling, vocabulary, weekly prefix and states and capitals online if they click the links on our daily calendar on our class webpage (we have practiced this). Make sure students are studying their weekly prefix word list, spelling lists, and state location, capitals and postal abbreviations. We practice some in class, but some students will need additional practice at home. They should also have a paper version of each item to practice if needed.

Also, we will be testing students on their math facts so students need to practice their multiplication facts at home if they are not fluent. This is an essential part of all of the math skills.

Weekly Skills

- Reading: This week we will be the story Path to Paper Son. We will focus on analyzing main idea details from informational text.
