

BECOME A COX SCHOLAR

The Jesse H. and Beulah Chanley Cox Scholars Program[®] affirms and rewards the efforts of hardworking Indiana students who demonstrate—along with solid academic performance—the motivation and resourcefulness necessary for a lifetime of success.

Cox Scholars are provided part-time jobs and receive a scholarship package that—in conjunction with any other institutional funding and/or federal or state entitlements—will total the official cost of attendance at Indiana University Bloomington.

ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

To be eligible for a Cox Scholarship, you must:

- Be pursuing your first baccalaureate degree.
- Be enrolled full time (at least 12 credit hours) upon arrival and throughout your academic career at IU Bloomington.
- Demonstrate financial need by filing a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) for the upcoming year by the Cox Scholarship application deadline.
- Enroll at IU as a United States citizen and Indiana resident.

Please note: NCAA athletes are not eligible for a Cox Scholarship.
