imperious – having or showing arrogant superiority. His egotistical attitude gave him the label of being very imperious.

jabber – talk in a noisy or excited manner. The infant who was learning to talk jabbered all the time.

jargon – technical terminology characteristic of a particular subject. Living in the big city for several months had taught him the hip hog jargon that his friends tried to use.

jostle – make one’s way by pushing or shoving. Unfortunately, many shoppers start to jostle in the crowd waiting to enter the stores on Black Friday.

jut – extending out or projecting in space. The pier jutted out into the ocean.

*“Yesterday is history. Tomorrow’s a mystery.
Today is a gift; that’s why it’s called the present.”*
